Developing new talent in the workplace

Young Ireland Programme

Autumn 2026

13-16 October
Western House Hotel, Ayr, Scotland

The Young Programme's aims are to enhance communication skills, inspire confidence, and broaden the intellectual horizons of people in the early years of their careers. These core objectives are at the heart of all of our events.

Public speaking, often seen as intimidating, is a key focus, with expert coaching to help participants overcome their fears – boosting confidence and improving presentational skills. Invaluable advice is given to enhance communication skills in a range of styles.

By removing participants from their everyday work environment, the programme allows them to focus on their development without typical workplace distractions. Moreover, participants gain valuable networking opportunities by connecting with individuals from diverse fields and backgrounds.

A central part of all of our courses is the presentation by each delegate of a 900-word paper ('Argument') on a topic – of the delegate's choice – of current interest or controversy. Researched, written and submitted in advance, the paper is delivered during the event.

And there's much more, including:

Guest speakers sharing their extraordinary life experiences in the Testimony session

90-Second Challenge, in which delegates ask themselves a question on a subject of their own choice and answer it without notes

Group Challenge, in which delegates are divided into small discussion groups, allocated a topic, and given a short time to prepare an informal presentation and Things of Value, in which delegates bring along something they value and talk informally about what this object means to them and why

The entire event adds up to a rich and unique experience.

Everyone who completes the course will receive a certificate – in recognition of an outstanding achievement. In addition, based mainly on the Argument paper, the Ireland Young Thinker of the Year title will be awarded to a delegate on the final evening. There will also be an award for Best Group in the Group Challenge.
